

This July, we'll recognize some of the extraordinary sponsors of Sienna Recreation as part of our #ThankfulThursday series.

Today, we'll highlight David Knudsen, the Chief Operating Officer for Leonetti Graphics!

David is a native of Missouri City, having been here for over 40 years! David is a proud graduate of Texas A&M University (WHOOOP!). He has been in Sienna for over 16 years and he and his wife Sarah have two amazing boys, Cooper (4) and Craig (2). David's favorite past times include BBQ'ing, hunting, fishing, and anything involving his boys!

We asked David who his hero is, and he proudly told us, "My Grandmother. She lost her husband when my mother was 16 years old. She worked hard to raise my mother and her two brothers. She just recently passed away at the age of 106! She taught me that nothing is given and that you must earn everything. She was a strong woman and she instilled in our family her beliefs/character and for that we are all thankful."

We were curious what David's favorite "spot" in Sienna is, and he said, "Sienna Baseball Fields or at one of the ponds catching large mouth bass".

So what has been rewarding for David about working with Sienna Recreation? "Working with Sienna has been great! Although this past year has been tough for everyone, I have been pleased to see the efforts Sienna has gone to to help support their community".

We're so thankful for our amazing relationship with our friends at Leonetti Graphics, and David, you're a big part of that relationship. Thank you for all you do and thank you for your continued support of recreation in Sienna!
